

OUR NICE PARTNERS

GUEST SPEAKERS FROM DIVERSITY CHARTERS CYPRUS, GREECE, LITHUANIA, ROMANIA

Aistė Brazdžiūnaitė, Project Coordinator, Lithuanian Diversity Charter

In 2023, Aistė joined the Diversity Charter and has since been actively involved in evaluating equal opportunities documents, organising training sessions and member meetings, and learning more about issues related to inclusive communication, gender equality, and LGBTIAQ+ topics. Aistė holds a bachelor's degree in political science and is currently pursuing a master's degree in semiotics, focusing on communication and the meanings that shape our world.

Dana Oancea, Co-founder and Project Manager, Romanian Diversity Charter

President of Forum for International Communications, a Romanian foundation which has been organising since 2003 the Romanian PR Award. She has more than 20 years' experience in public relations in Romania and abroad. Dana mixes a professional life of communications practice with research in ethics in PR, corporate social responsibility and lobbying. She holds a PhD degree from Ludwig-Maximilian-Universität in München. Dana is editor-in-chief for PR Romania, an online resources portal she initiated in 2009. She coordinated and edited The Golden Book of Romanian Public Relations, published in 2017. She is a founder of the Romanian Diversity Charter. Dana believes in the professionalism and ethics tandem, the robust recipe of PR performance.

Eleni Ploutarchou, Lead of Diversity Charter Cyprus

Mrs. Eleni Ploutarchou, with degrees in Human Studies and Intercultural Diversity, excels in communication, problem-solving, and teamwork. Her expertise spans European projects, counseling, and initiatives on migration, climate change, and social inclusion. A motivated professional, she combines academic knowledge and practical experience to drive societal impact, promote diversity, and foster collaboration in community development roles.

Stavros Milionis, President of KEAN, Diversity Charter Greece

Stavros is the founder and President of KEAN (human rights, environment, volunteerism, youth participation, democracy). He is very active in the field of employees' rights. He is the founder of Diversity Charter in Greece.